3rd GRADE

Standard 1 – READING: Word Recognition, Fluency, and Vocabulary Development

Students understand the basic features of words. They select letter patterns and know how to translate them into spoken language by using phonics (an understanding of the different letters that make different sounds), syllables, word parts (un-, -ful), and context clues (the meaning of the text around a word). They apply this knowledge to achieve fluent (smooth and clear) oral and silent reading.

Decoding and Word Recognition

- 3.1.1 Know and use more difficult word families (-ight) when reading unfamiliar words.
- 3.1.2 Read words with several syllables.
- 3.1.3 Read aloud grade-level-appropriate narrative text (stories) and expository text (information) fluently and accurately and with appropriate timing, change in voice, and expression.

Vocabulary and Concept Development

- 3.1.4 Determine the meanings of words using knowledge of antonyms (words with opposite meaning), synonyms (words with the same meaning), homophones (words that sound the same but have different meanings and spellings), and homographs (words that are spelled the same but have different meanings).

Example: Understand that words, such as fair and fare, are said the same way but have different meanings. Know the difference between two meanings of the word lead when used in sentences, such as “The pencil has lead in it” and “I will lead the way.”

- 3.1.5 Demonstrate knowledge of grade-level appropriate words to speak specifically about different issues.
- 3.1.6 Use sentence and word context to find the meaning of unknown words.
- 3.1.7 Use a dictionary to learn the meaning and pronunciation of unknown words.
- 3.1.8 Use knowledge of prefixes (word parts added at the beginning of words such as un-, pre-) and suffixes (word parts added at the end of words such as -er, -ful, -less) to determine the meaning of words.

Standard 2 – READING: Reading Comprehension

Students read and understand grade-level-appropriate material. They use a variety of comprehension strategies, such as asking and responding to essential questions, making predictions, and comparing information from several sources to understand what is read. In addition to their regular school reading, at Grade 3, students read a variety of grade-level-appropriate narrative (story) and expository (informational and technical) texts, including classic and contemporary literature, poetry, children’s magazines and newspapers, reference materials, and online information.

Structural Features of Informational Technical Materials

3.2.1 Use titles, tables of contents, chapter headings, a glossary, or an index to locate information in text.

Comprehension and Analysis of Grade-Level-Appropriate Text

3.2.2 Ask questions and support answers by connecting prior knowledge with literal information from the text.

Example: When reading informational materials about science topics or social science subjects, compare what is read to background knowledge about the subject.

3.2.3 Show understanding by identifying answers in the text.

Example: After generating a question about information in a text, skim and scan the remaining text to find the answer to the question.

3.2.4 Recall major points in the text and make and revise predictions about what is read.

Example: Read a story, such as Storm in the Night by Mary Slattery Stolz or part of Ramona Quinby by Beverly Cleary, and predict what is going to happen next in the story. Confirm or revise the prediction based on further reading.

3.2.5 Distinguish the main idea and supporting details in expository (informational) text.

Example: Read an informational text, such as The Magic School Bus Inside the Earth by Joanna Cole or Volcano by Christopher Lampton, and make a chart listing the main ideas from the text and the details that support them.

3.2.6 Locate appropriate and significant information from the text, including problems and solutions.

Example: Identify the problem faced by a character in a book, such as A Gift for Tia Rosa by Karen T. Taha, and explain how the character solved his or her problem. Identify how problems can form the motivations for new discoveries or inventions by reading informational texts about famous inventors, scientists, or explorers, such as Thomas Edison or Jonas Salk.

3.2.7 Follow simple multiple-step written instructions.

Standard 3 – READING: Literary Response and Analysis

Students read and respond to a wide variety of significant works of children’s literature. They identify and discuss the characters, theme (the main idea of a story), plot (what happens in a story), and the setting (where a story takes place) of stories that they read.

Structural Features of Literature

- 3.3.1 Recognize different common genres (types) of literature, such as poetry, drama, fiction, and nonfiction.
- Example: Look at the same topic, such as cranes, and see how it is shown differently in various forms of literature, such as the poem “On the Run” by Douglas Florian, the play The Crane Wife by Sumiko Yagawa, Anne Laurin’s fictional book Perfect Crane, and the nonfiction counting book Counting Cranes by Mary Beth Owens.

Narrative Analysis of Grade-Level-Appropriate Text

- 3.3.2 Comprehend basic plots of classic fairy tales, myths, folktales, legends, and fables from around the world.
- Example: Read and discuss the plots of the folktales from around the world that explain why animals are the way they are, such as Why Mosquitos Buzz in People’s Ears retold by Verna Aardema or How the Leopard Got Its Spots by Jusine and Ron Fontes. Plot each story onto a story map.
- 3.3.3 Determine what characters are like by what they say or do and by how the author or illustrator portrays them.
- Example: Discuss and write about the comical aspects of the motorcycle-riding mouse, Ralph S. Mouse, the main character in Beverly Cleary’s book by the same name.
- 3.3.4 Determine the theme or author’s message in fiction and nonfiction text.
- Example: Look at the admirable qualities in Abraham Lincoln as shown in both the fictional story, More than Halfway There by Janet Halliday Erin, and the nonfiction biography, Abe Lincoln’s Hat by Martha Brenner.
- 3.3.5 Recognize that certain words and rhythmic patterns can be used in a selection to imitate sounds.
- Example: Discuss the different words that are used to imitate sounds. To explore these words further, read a book on the topic, such as Cock-a-doodle doo!: What Does It Sound Like to You? by Marc Robinson, in which the author discusses the words that various languages use for such sounds as a dog’s bark, a train’s whistle, and water dripping.
- 3.3.6 Identify the speaker or narrator in a selection.
- Example: Read a book, such as Class Clown by Johanna Hurwitz or Dinner at Aunt Connie’s House by Faith Ringgold, and identify who is telling the story. Share examples from the story for how the reader can tell that it is told by what character.

Standard 5 – Writing Applications (Different Types of Writing and Their Characteristics)

At Grade 3, students continue to write compositions that describe and explain familiar objects, events, and experiences. Students write both informal and formal letters. Student writing demonstrates a command of Standard English and the drafting, research, and organizational strategies outlined in Standard 4 – Writing Process. Writing demonstrates an awareness of the audience (intended reader) and purpose for writing.

In addition to producing the different writing forms introduced in earlier grades, Grade 3 students, use the writing strategies outlined in Standard 4 – Writing Process to:

3.5.1 Write narratives (stories) that:

- provide a context within which an action takes place.
- include details to develop the plot.

Example: Write a story based on an article in a magazine, such as Crick or Stone Soup, about what life was like 100 year ago.

3.5.1 Write descriptive pieces about people, places, things, or experiences that:

- develop a unified main idea.
- use details to support the main idea.

3.5.2 Write personal, persuasive, and formal letters, thank-you notes, and invitations that:

- Show awareness of the knowledge and interests of the audience and establish a purpose and context.
- Include the date, proper salutation, body, closing, and signature.

Example: Write a letter to a pen pal in another country describing your family, school, and town and asking the pen pal questions about himself or herself. Write an invitation asking an adult to come to speak in the classroom. Write a persuasive letter to your family asking for your favorite foods on your birthday.

3.5.3 Use varied word choices to make writing interesting.

Example: Write stories using varied words, such as cried, yelled, or whispered instead of said.

3.5.4 Write for different purposes and to a specific audience or person.

Example: Write an article about the library at your school. Include a list of ways that students use the library.
